

Website Privacy Policy

Protecting personal information of those who visit our website is important to us. If you have questions or concerns regarding our site's privacy statement, your personal information, or how it will be used, please contact us at info@idbids.com.

1. General Browsing Information - If you visit our site to read or download information, we may collect and store the following general information in order to analyze trends, gather broad demographic information, and monitor site traffic patterns that can help us further develop and improve the design and functionality of our site: your computer's IP address, browser type, and operating system, the date and time you access our site, the Internet address of the website from which you linked directly to our site; and the various pages that you visit while on our site.

2. Personally-Identifiable Information - We will explicitly notify you before we collect any personally identifiable information about you (e.g. your name, email address, contact information, credit card number, etc.), and will not collect any information unless you choose to provide it to us. This information may be shared within Idbids, LLC for the purposes of fulfilling your orders and requests, responding to any comments or questions you submit and/or providing follow-up information about our business, for example when you sign up for our e-newsletter. We may outsource to third parties one or more of these functions.

We will not share your email address with other organizations. If you receive an email from us, you may choose not to receive such messages in the future by following the "unsubscribe" link, which we include in each broadly distributed email communication. If you have further questions or concerns, please contact us.

3. Children's Information - Idbids encourages parents and guardians to visit our site with their children. We respect the privacy of children, and do not collect any more personal information than reasonably necessary to enable them to participate in the activities we offer at our website. We do not have any agreements with outside organizations to collect personal information at our site. The information we collect from children is used to respond to children's specific requests to participate in online activities such as:

- Contests or sweepstakes
- Subscription to an online newsletter
- Completing a certificate of completion
- E-mailing Scout, Lola or Waverly

We do not share children's personal information with anyone other than those who provide support for the internal operations of the website and our agents. If you have questions about children's information, please contact us at info@idbids.com.

5. Cookies - Some areas of this site require use of cookies for proper navigation. If a user rejects a cookie, they simply will not be able to use that part of the site effectively.

6. Other Security Measures - We provide our website visitors with a secure experience when they are placing orders. Although we will use all reasonable means to safeguard the privacy of your personal information, transmissions made via the Internet cannot be made absolutely secure.

Idbids reserves the right to amend this policy at any time as needed. We will post changes here, so please check back periodically. Changes will take effect when posted and your continued use of the site will constitute your agreement to the changes. Thank you.
